

VESTRY NOMINEES

Kelly Enos

Kelly Enos moved to Santa Fe full time in 2023 from Houston Texas where she was a member of St. Martin's Episcopal Church Houston, TX. At St Martin's, Kelly served on alter guild and the church service greeter team. Kelly's other interests include serving as the Vice Conseiller Gastronomique for the Chaine des Rotisseurs Bailliage de Santa Fe, Treasurer of her Homeowner's Association, a volunteer at Kitchen Angels, Vice President of Daughters of the King at Holy Faith and service on Holy Faith's Finance Committee and Investment Committee. She and her husband Jack Swanson have been coming to Santa Fe since 2005 and made the decision to make Santa Fe their permanent home. Kelly, now retired, has more than 30 years of experience as a chief financial executive leading the legal, financial and accounting functions in high tech, start-up, venture backed companies. She is a CPA with a BA from LSU and an MBA from Rice University. Kelly grew up in a small town in Southwestern Louisiana and still travels frequently to Sulphur to visit family and friends.

Paula Price

In December 2023, Paula and her husband King moved to Santa Fe and began attending Holy Faith. New Mexico had always been a regular vacation spot and as their retirement date drew closer, they decided Santa Fe would be their new home. Since that time, Paula joined and is active in the Altar Guild, Women's Spirituality Committee and serves with King as Ushers for the 8:30 a.m. service.

Prior to their move, Paula and King were active members of St. Michael's Episcopal Church in Norman, Oklahoma. Paula served two terms on the Vestry Committee, was the Altar Guild Director for more than 25 years and was also a regular 9:00 a.m. Altar Server.

During her 37-year career, Paula was a hospital executive vice president for Norman Regional Health System. One of her reporting departments was Spiritual Care, which served the spiritual and emotional needs of the patients, their families and the health system's more than 4,000 employees. She was involved in many community activities that cared for the underserved people of Cleveland County, such as United Way, Meals on Wheels, Food and Shelter for Friends and Health for Friends.

"My goal as a member of Holy Faith and a potential Vestry member is to be a welcoming presence to all who walk through the doors of Holy Faith. King and I felt that warm spiritual presence on our very first visit and hope to share that sense of belonging with others."

Michael Adam Smith

Michael and his wife Leah moved from Los Angeles to Santa Fe three years ago. They joined The Church of the Holy Faith shortly after arriving. Michael is a life-long Episcopalian who has been involved in his parishes his entire life. As a child and teenager at St. Marks (Altadena), he was an acolyte. He served on the Finance Committee at St. Edmunds (San Marino) and is currently on the Investment Committee of Holy Faith.

He is the Founder and Managing Partner of Braeburn Family Office. Michael graduated from the University of California, Los Angeles.

Outside of Holy Faith, Michael is on the House Committee at The Club at Las Campanas, the Food and Wine Committee of The California Club, and is a member of several wine and fine-dining focused societies.

He enjoys golf, tennis, and college football and basketball. In addition, Michael crafts gin, limoncello, and ginja.